prosperous firms of this city, will celebrate its tenth birthday tomorrow. It marks the commencement of its second decade by beginning the building of an addition to its already mammoth establishment which will afford fully as much more room as now exists. This will give an entrance on 10th street to re-lieve the now over-crowded doors on F street, besides affording the extra floor space which the constantly increasing custom of the house de-mands. The owner of the property, Mr. Cal-deron Carlisle, has made one improvement after another to the building to accommodate his tenants, and this last addition is a proof of the faith which he has in the firm's present and future success. The building will be pushed as rapidly as possible, and it is ex-pected that it will be occupied by the 1st of

THE RECORD OF THE BOSTON HOUSE has been one of almost unexampled prosperity. Beginning on a small scale, it has developed with astonishing steadiness, going from one store to another in order to find the greater room that was needed, until now it about doubles its capacity at one move. The present anniversary marks not only the passage of ten years of store growth, but also the end of the first year of the existence of the building association which the firm has established for the benefit of their clarks. the benefit of their clerks. It is not generally known that there is in active operation among the employes of this establishment a flourishing investment company, of which all current expenses are paid by Messrs. Woodward & Lothrop, for the purpose of saving money and the securing of homes. At the end of the year of the organization a dividend of considerable proportions will probably be declared.

The celebration temorrow will consist in the decoration of the store and the display of an

The South Capitol Street Bridge.

To the Editor of THE EVENING STAR:
The members of the South Capitol Street bridge association, as well as thousands of other citizens of the District, were surprised to see published by some of the daily press of this city a report that the Secretary of the Navy had rendered a decision adverse to the feasi-bility of constructing this bridge. Neither branch of Congress nor the District Commissioners have ever asked for the opinion of the Secretary of the Navy. Should they do so they will doubtless find that he is in favor of any enterprise which, like this, will add to the wealth and comfort of so many people. Both Houses of Congress referred the bill to the Commissioners of the District of Columbia and requested their opinion. The Commissioners in their reply to Congress say: "The construction of the bridge proposed in the bill would undoubtedly be a great benefit to the city."

Upon this favorable report coming in, Congress, at the suggestion of the Commissioners, referred the bill to the Secretary of War. The engineer department, after a careful examination of the question, made a very favorable report, which was approved by the Secretary of War and transmitted to Congress. The only amendment to the bill which is recommended by the Secretary of War is a change of the amount of the appropriation from $160,000 to $350,000. With this alteration the report says there is no objection to the wording of the

A bill favoring the enterprise received a unanimous report from the Senate committee on the District of Columbia, and it passed the Senate without an opposing vote during the closing days of last session. The bill went to the House, but owing to the excitement at-tending the closure, hours of Congress the tending the closing hours of Congress the friends of the bill were unable to obtain a vote npon it. Yost Schlosser, who was always known as George Schlosser, had been employed for a subscription, Mayor J. G. Berret heading the number of years as hostler in the stables of the list, and with the results purchased an immense

Washington and Georgetown railroad company. He was an eccentric man, but recently he seemed to have lost control of his mind and frequently talked of committing suicide. Nearly three weeks ago he left the house, bidding all his relatives good-bye and saying that they would never see him again. The coroner's jury yesterday was satisfied from the evidence that the deceased committed suicide and rendered a verdict to that effect.

A UNIVERSITY CLUB. The Movement Well Advanced at the Meeting Saturday Night.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of college graduates was held Saturday evening at the residence of Mr. W. D. Cabell, 1407 Massachusetts avenue, for the purpose of discussing the organization of a university club in this city. The call for a meeting had been made but a short time before and was not very generally known about, so the presence of more than fifty prominent gentlemen, representing twentytwo different colleges, showed how great was the interest aroused in the matter. The original idea of the meeting was simply to talk over the project and decide whether it was worth while to proceed further, but so much enthusiasm was shown by those in attendance and so many encouraging letters were read from others not present but promising their support to any action that might be taken that by the time of adjourment the oganization of the club was practically assured.

Mr. J. H. Voorhees, president of the Princeton alumni association, was chosen chairman of the meeting and Mr. W. D. Cabell and Mr. Victor Kauffmann, secretaries.

THE PLANS OF THE CLUB. Mr. Voorhees briefly discussed the beginning of the idea of such a club and stated the objects of the club and the ground it should cover. It is intended to intrude upon the territory of no other organization, but will be purely a university club, to which only college graduates will be eligible to membership. It is to be organized upon the same foundations as similar clubs in other large cities, although, of course, not on such an elaborate scale at first. It is the plan to obtain a building suitable for the general purposes of such an organization and with certain rooms devoted to the meetings of the various alumni associations of the District and to their annual banquets. It will furnish a general meeting place for graduates resident and to the such as the suc here or visiting in the city and is intended to bind them closer together in their common feelings and interests. COLLEGES REPRESENTED.

When the roll of colleges was called it was found that the following were represented: Cornell-W. C. Russell, jr., Percy E. Clark, A. F. Cowell, Albert Jonas, D. H. Decker. When the question of organization was raised those present were unanimous in favor of such a scheme and a committee on permanent or-ganization was appointed by the chairman, ganization was appointed by the chairman, consisting of one representative from each of the colleges present. Blackford, principal of the Episcopal high school, Alexandria, and others. At the invitation of Mr. Cabell the meeting adjourned to the rear drawing room, where refreshments were served. The committee on organization afterward held a short session, in which they got fairly in working order. At their next meeting they will hear the report of the subcommittee on constitution and report of the subcommittee on constitution and by-laws, consisting of Messrs. Stewart, Web-ster, Russell, Wilson. Voorhees, Cabell and Flint. Another meeting of all graduates interested in the matter will be called in a short time by the chairman, Mr. Voorhees, to hear the reports of the committees and to complete the organization.

PREPARE FOR SPRING

Now is the time to attend to your personal condition in preparation for the change to spring season. If you have not "wintered well," if you are tired out from confinement in badly ventilated offices or shops, you should take flood's Sarsaparilla at once. It will purify and vitalize your blood, create a good appetite and give your whole system tone and strength.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

"For a first-class spring medicine my wife and I think very highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla. We both took it last spring. It did us a great deal of good and we felt better through the hot weather than ever before. It cured my wife of sick headache, from which she has suffered a great deal, and relieved me of a dizzy, tired feeling. I think every one ought to take something to purify the blood before the hot weather comes on, and we shall certainly take Hood's Sarsapa-rilla this spring." J. H. PEARCE, Supt. Granite Rail-way Co., Concord, N.H.

PURIFIES THE BLOOD

"This is to certify that I have used Hood's Sarsans rilla in my family for some time past and have found it to be a good blood purifier. It has been of grea enefit as recommended and I have no hesitation in recommending it to all who are in want of any medicine of the kind." ROBERT A. SMITH, Justice of N. B.-Be sure to get only Widdicombe, now of Missouri and lately chairman of the Missouri republican state central committee. In April, 1861, he was a civilian and thought there ought to be a flag on the monument. He started a popular flag-something like 50 by 30 feet in size. A suitable flagstaff was made in Baltimore and everything was ready by July 4, 1861. Mr. Widdicombe, however, was sick when the glorious Fourth arrived, so the ceremony was postponed until February 22, 1862. On that day the national colors were exalted, and by order of the Secretary of War all the soldiers in the city and on the Virginia shore saluted it with cheers and gunpowder. Fully 100,000 men fired at least one cartridge each.

"The flag stayed up a long time," said Capt.
Widdicombe to a STAR reporter who asked him about it. "It is now in the archives of the War
